Read How SenLife Helped Katy And Her Son James During The Transition To Secondary School

During Covid, James was struggling emotionally and underperforming, but his difficulties were dismissed as “just Covid.” Despite many meetings, the school didn’t see the problem – James masked well, and Katy felt unheard and alone.

By Year 6, things worsened: increasing fixations, bedtime meltdowns, and heightened anxiety. Then Katy was introduced to SenLife – which she describes as “game-changing.”

With everything summarised clearly and accurately in SenLife’s insight reports, the junior school finally engaged with her concerns. For secondary transition, she was able to share SenLife reports, which led to immediate support: SEN meetings in place before term, ELSA sessions, SEN break room access, and forest school.

At home, Katy followed recommendations from SenLife reports, creating a sensory corner and using feelings/breathing cards – small changes with a big impact.

James remains undiagnosed (with no plans to go down that route), but with SenLife the difference has been transformative:

“A 360° life change – he’s happier, and I feel empowered to help him. “We wouldn’t be where we are now in terms of support without SenLife.”
